SOCIETY SCHOLARSHIP INFORMATION

The Engineers' Club of Philadelphia provides an opportunity for you to make information on your scholarships available to a wide audience, as well as a location for college students to find information about many different scholarship options. To make it work, we need information on your scholarship; please fill out the form below.

We are asking you to provide general information that is consistent from year to year, with a link to the scholarship section of your website. That way the information on our website will provide a year-round resource for college students, with access to the specifics of the current scholarship cycle (and application) on your website.

Another aspect of this program is to collect information on the total amount of scholarship money awarded by the various engineering and technical societies in the region. Being able to publicize that 15 societies gave $100,000 in scholarships last year is more note-worthy than each of the 15 societies trying to publicize their $3,000 to $10,000 in scholarships. Again we will need your help in getting that information.
